

The Annual Arthur F. Stocker Lecturers

Arthur Stocker received his Ph.D. from Harvard University in 1939 with a dissertation entitled De Novo Codicum Servianorum Genere. Servius remained the subject to which he would devote most of his scholarly career. Prof. Stocker joined the University of Virginia in 1946, served as Chair 1955-1963 and 1968-1978, and retired in 1984 after 38 years of service to the university. As a retirement gift colleagues, former students, and friends endowed the Arthur F. Stocker Lecture Series. Arthur Stocker died on January 13, 2010, at a healthy and vigorous ninety-five years of age.

- 1985: Elaine Fantham, Princeton
- 1986: James Zetzel, Princeton
- 1987: W. R. Johnson, Chicago
- 1988: Michael Putnam, Brown
- 1989: Gordon Williams, Yale
- 1990: Kenneth Reckford, North Carolina
- 1991: Richard Thomas, Harvard
- 1992: T. P. Wiseman, Exeter
- 1993: James May, St. Olaf
- 1994: John Miller, Virginia
- 1995: Robert Kaster, Princeton
- 1996: Denis Feeney, Wisconsin
- 1997: Karl Galinsky, Texas
- 1998: Joseph Farrell, Penn
- 1999: Kathleen Coleman, Harvard
- 2000: James McKeown, Wisconsin
- 2001: Fergus Millar, Oxford
- 2002: Julia Gaisser, Bryn Mawr
- 2003: James O'Hara, North Carolina
- 2004: Stephen Hinds, Washington
- 2005: Gareth Schmeling, Florida
- 2006: Richard Tarrant, Harvard
- 2007: Anthony Corbeill, Kansas
- 2008: Gareth Williams, Columbia
- 2009: Christopher Craig, Tennessee
- 2010: Carole Newlands, Colorado
- 2011: Michael Dewar, Toronto
- 2012: Peter White, Chicago
- 2013: Gregson Davis, NYU
- 2014: Edward Champlin, Princeton
- 2015: Cynthia Damon, Penn
- 2016: Katharina Volk, Columbia
- 2017: David Levene, NYU
- 2018: Antony Augoustakis, Illinois
- 2019: Christina Kraus, Yale
- 2020: Amy Richlin, UCLA